Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance (CEIAG) Guidelines

These guidelines support the implementation of the Curriculum Policy and outline the provision of Careers Education for all students of St Piers School and College

Introduction

Young Epilepsy - St Piers School and Further Education College is a non-maintained day and residential Special Educational Needs (SEN) provision for pupils aged 5 – 25 with Epilepsy and/or other neurological conditions and comorbidities including learning difficulties, ADHD and ASC. Our provision offers educational support via our waking day curriculum that is supported by many other professionals within our Trans-disciplinary team including, educational psychologists including a resident play therapist and positive behaviour mentors, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, speech and language therapists and a specialist medical team.

St Piers has a well-established Student Voice that has been embedded into the inclusive ethos of both School and College for many years. We offer a nurturing and safe environment and support our students in developing independence skills through our three-tiered curriculum where students follow learning journeys catered around their individual needs.

1. Learning for life
2. Skills for Life
3. Specialist Skills

The Aims of our CEIAG Policy

- Promote independence and self-help skills.
- Provide access to expert personal guidance, information and advice to students, families and professionals from an internal Independent Advice and Guidance practitioner (IAG).
- To facilitate work related learning and employability opportunities through the accredited curriculum and via internal or external work experience placements where appropriate.
- Facilitate the achievement of its learners through a variety of accredited qualifications and bespoke learning pathways.
- Assist students and parents with a transition pathway into appropriate future placements.

Meeting statutory requirements

The Careers Leaders at St Piers School and College are registered professionals with the Career Development Institute (CDI) and have signed up to the code of ethics around impartiality. This Professional registration allows us access to the most current updates in legislation and relevant training for our setting. It enables us to identify areas for development that will feed into our annual CEIAG development plans that link to the whole school and college Quality Improvement Plan at a strategic organisational level. We are committed to meeting the 8 Gatsby Benchmarks and review our progress against these guidelines every six months using the Compass Toolkit and through Links with our Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP), Coast To Capital and SEND cluster Group. The school holds a Quality in Careers Standard (QiCS) Award through Career Mark, a nationally validated awarding body, and the College hold the Fair Train Gold Work Experience Quality Standard. The school and college are working towards the QiCS Award as part of the revalidation process. We continually monitor, review and update our CEIAG programme annually.

Details of the Careers Leader in School and College can be found below. The role of the Careers Leader is to advise the Senior Leadership Team (SLT), Executives and Governors, to facilitate the contribution of colleagues and external organisations in addition to managing and developing the Careers Education programme, including information, advice and guidance (IAG).

Information about our CEIAG programme can be accessed on our website by pupils, parents, teachers and employers. The Website provides information about the education structure, which shows the three learning journeys available to our students and gives further information about work based learning, work experience, vocational learning, accredited courses and non-accredited learning and enrichment opportunities. Our CEIAG programme is also key for supporting students and their parents, with the support of local authorities through transition phases. The destinations of our young people upon leaving St Piers School and College are tracked and the information gained from this has an impact on the future development of CEIAG.

The CEIAG Curriculum

Our Careers programme is threaded through the curriculum at each stage of the student's education and through every learning journey. Each learner is placed on a personalised journey. Learners are placed in small class groups with a high level of specialist staff. Each learner follows a specifically designed programme and timetable within the scaffolding of a class timetable. This provides scope for free flow learning and semi-formal learning to a more structured and subject specific learning. Both School and College run the TALANTINO Careers at EVERY level programme for students with SEND.
